Today's ride was another great one. The weather was cool and dry. We departed west then north through Downtown then past Old Town then up to Mission Bay to see some bicycles from Specialized. Clydesdale Paul had a flat on the way to Mission Bay which gave a chance for John to catch up who made a pit stop in Downtown at Sheraton Hotel the nicest rest room in town. Next we headed south toward Point Loma then up to the lighthouse. Odale and Julio didn't go to the lighthouse they meet the rest of the group at the Living Room in Point Loma. The rest rode up to the ranger station where John got us in the park for free. This was first time Ivan had been to the Lighthouse so we were all given a historical lesson from Damion, Harold and John. We then all regrouped at the Living Room where some ate there and some ate at Point Loma Seafood which is just down the street you have to try the tuna sandwich and lemonade. After lunch some riders rode home from Point Loma the rest of us road south back to Bonita. The mileage ended up approximately 50 miles. If you didn't make this ride you missed out so hopefully we see you next Sunday.

Keep the rubber down
